IT Employment Continues Steady Climb in March; Engineering Employment Growth Rate Slows

Alexandria, VA, April 8, 2015 – The number of IT jobs grew 0.3 percent sequentially last month to 4,899,700, according to TechServe Alliance, the national trade association of the IT & Engineering Staffing and Solutions industry. On a year-over-year basis, IT employment has grown by 5.1% since March 2014 adding 234,700 IT workers.

The rate of engineering job growth slowed, up 0.1 percent sequentially to 2,523,400. On a year-over-year basis, engineering employment has grown by 1.4% since March 2014 adding 34,200 engineering workers.

“In March, IT employment continued its steady growth. While still posting positive numbers, the rate of engineering job growth decelerated last month,” stated Mark Roberts, CEO of TechServe Alliance. “Despite an anemic overall jobs report in March, IT employment continued to show resilience. While the data from a single month does not reflect a trend, engineering job growth struggled in March---falling behind the growth rate of the overall workforce. ” added Roberts.

IT and engineering jobs are found in virtually every sector and industry in varying degrees. The following table presents information about the total number of jobs in certain sectors that provide a significant amount of employment for IT and engineering professionals.

Technical note: TechServe Alliance's IT Employment Index and Engineering Employment Index are the first specific measurements of IT and engineering employment. These unique measurements of total IT and engineering employment are created monthly by studying the ongoing staffing patterns of a dozen IT and computer related occupations in 22 industries and industry sectors employing significant numbers of IT workers and nearly two dozen engineering occupations in 30 select industries and industry sectors employing significant numbers of engineering workers. Both the monthly IT Employment and Engineering Employment Indices are based on U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) data, which is subject to monthly revisions, and is revised accordingly. Both indices were rebenchmarked in February with revisions going back several years. The next major revision will be published in February 2016. Additionally, from time-to-time TechServe Alliance reviews and adjusts the algorithm utilized to calculate the indices.
